PARTICIPATION IN OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

Dear Parent/Guardian:

Central Union School District (“CUSD”) is committed to the health and safety of its students. As part of that commitment, CUSD will take appropriate action to minimize student exposure to adverse environmental conditions, including poor air quality as determined by the San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District, see CUSD Administrative Regulation 6142.7(a).

The San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District has developed a “Daily Air Quality Forecast” and rating system that assesses the air quality.

1. Most days the air quality is rated as “good” or “moderate” and no limitations on outdoor activities are recommended.
2. Some days the air quality may be rated “unhealthy for sensitive groups” which means that the level of air pollution is high enough for sensitive members of the population (such as children with asthma or respiratory illnesses) to experience ill health effects. On these days, only CUSD students identified as having asthma, respiratory illness or other conditions will not be permitted to participate in outdoor activities, including sports and outdoor recess.
3. A few days each year, the air quality may be rated “unhealthy,” “very unhealthy” or “hazardous.” On these days, all CUSD students will not be permitted to participate in outdoor activities, including sports and outdoor recess.

On those days when the air quality is rated “unhealthy for sensitive groups”, you may instruct CUSD to permit your child to participate in outdoor activities; that is you may instruct CUSD to make an exception for your child and not follow the CUSD policy; prohibiting CUSD students identified as having asthma or other respiratory illnesses from participating in outdoor activities when the air quality is rated “unhealthy for sensitive groups.”
